Criteria and weighting	Level	Comments
Knowledge and understanding of the topic/ issues under consideration (30%) To provide an overview of current knowledge on the chosen topic	Excellent	Generally excellent knowledge of the topic demonstrated. There is a good range of research employed and there is effective theoretical as well as intrinsic knowledge of the subject that is mostly underpinned by regular citation. A genuine attempt to fulfil the required summative criteria.
Criticality (30%) To highlight similar and contrasting views on your chosen topic	Very Good	Very good criticality which could tip into the excellent category with a few minor adjustments to the approach of academic writing. Avoid bullet points and lists and instead develop fully formed sentences and paragraphs throughout which give you the opportunity to debate and discuss content and contexts fully. There is appropriate application of theory to practice based issues discussed in the Literature review and this is good practice.
Use of relevant sources (20%) To demonstrate an awareness of relevant, current literature	Very good	Very good use of research resources. There are still opportunities to cite in latter stages of the assignment and so where a fact is discussed this is an opportunity to cite. There is a good cross-section of research resources applied to the summative, and so do continue with this approach and build upon this approach for future summative.
Structure and Presentation (as detailed in the assessment guidance) (10%) To showcase your research and writing skills.	Very Good	The assignment is generally structured to a very good standard. Just a note that double line spacing needs to occur between sentences as well as distinct spacing between paragraphs. The List of references also needs to be added to its own page at the end of the assignment. For extra professional finesse a contents page and a title page can also be added to the summative document. Paragraphs are relatively evenly weighted which is good practice. Avoid excessive use of bullet points/listing in Literature reviews/similar academic papers. No need for italics in an academic paper, standard text all the way through is appropriate.

Academic integrity (10%) To showcase your research and writing skills.	Excellent	The assignment is within word count, [including the 10+ tolerance percentage]. The chosen topic is also from the designated University of Essex topics list in unit 1 and this is good practice. Your academic writing style is fluid, concise with effective use of syntax, continue with this approach for future summative. A minor point; consistently set your spell check to English language default, [as opposed to American] to avoid 'Americanisms' such as 'rumor' occurring in text.
